GRAND OPERA HOUSE BABY GRAND GALLERY 600 N. MARKET STREET

The Russian Ballet History Collection is a private collection of century old ballet ephemera concentrating on the Diaghilev Ballets Russes period from 1909-1929. The ephemera unveils the history of Russian ballet and the man who brought it, first to Paris and then to the world. Russian impresario Serge Diaghilev's ability to construct ballets by collaborating ballet dancers, choreographers, opera singers, composers and artists of that period is still felt today over a century later. The pieces in the collection are all original pieces authenticated by Kathleen Guzman of the Antiques Road Show and Christie's.

Reception 5:30 - 8 PM. On view 9 AM - 9 PM Mon - Fri and 10 AM - 4 PM Saturday and Sunday through March 9
