RIVERFRONT

The Delaware Contemporary

200 South Madison St.
656-6466 · decontemporary.org
Artist: HALF : HALF: A Draper
Experiment by Willie Yao.

HALF : HALF debuts ten site-specific pieces of paintings, video, and other media installations that explore Yao's discovery of his own identity and lifestyle as an urban citizen. Figurative and deeply individualistic, Yao invites the observer to ask questions about their own dynamic identity, psychology, and life experiences.

DOWNTOWN

Christina Cultural Arts Center

705- 707 N. Market St.
429-0101 · ccacde.org
Artist: Joseph Repetti "Music Icons"

Art is my religion, creating is every day, and I'm fortunate to work with young minds that will shape our world. This exhibit features a collection of some of Repetti's favorite musicians throughout history.

City of Wilmington

Louis L. Redding Gallery
800 N. French St.
576-2135
Artist: Timmy Graham

Large-scale, mythological paintings by Philadelphia-based artist Timmy Graham. Graham takes fourth dimensionalism on a color journey as he fuses math and science with art in his massive oil paintings. Inspired by the theory of relativity, color relates to measured distances on the electromagnetic spectrum as every brushstroke becomes an individual plane.

Delaware History Museum

505 N. Market Street
655-7161
Artists: "Delaware: One State, Many Stories"

The exhibition introduces the state's history through a number of important topics. Delaware's immigrant history, its maritime heritage, deep roots in agriculture, Wilmington's evolution from an industrial hub to a financial center, its role on the war front and at home, and the many cultural and artistic contributions envelope visitors in First State history.

Wilmington Public Library

10 East 10th Street
571-7400
Artists: "Pacem In Terris - Traveling Peace Youth Art Exhibit"

The exhibit provides an opportunity for all of us to learn from our younger citizens what the world should be like. The art answers such questions as "what does a peaceful world look like," and "what should us older citizens be working towards?"

The Sold Firm

800-B N. Tatnall Street
689-3237 · thesoldfirm.com
Artist: Lvon Yoder "Micro Orcim"

The splatter abstract artist presents a solo show focused on his smallest artwork.

WEST END

Cab Calloway School of the Arts

100 N. Dupont Rd. · 651-2700
cabcallowayschool.org
Artist: Performances: the Brandywine Photo Collective

Before he was a photographer, Ansel Adams (1902-1984) was a gifted pianist. As a photographer, Adams continued to think in musical terms, that each print made in the darkroom was a performance. In this exhibit, nine of its members explore Adams' idea. Here you will see how each photographer interpreted their own image and how it was interpreted by three other members.

Delaware Center for Horticulture

1810 N. Dupont Street
658-6262
Artist: "Abstracticus" by Hillary Pease

Hillary Cissell Pease was born and raised on Florida's space coast. She studied linguistics at the University of Florida and graduated with highest honors, while pursuing painting and photography in her spare time. She became serious about abstract photography in the years following, exhibiting both locally and nationally while living in Richmond, Virginia. After moving to Wilmington, Delaware she began to study painting under Eo Omwake. Since then, she has begun to exhibit her abstract paintings in local galleries and art shows.
